

[College of Nursing, Yonsei University]

WHO Collaborating Center for Research and Training for Nursing Development in Primary Health Care

Since 1988

Focal person: Dr. Sue KIM

Key collaborating activity with WHO

TOR1: Collecting & disseminating information relevant to nursing's role in Primary Health Care (PHC) /community health services (CHS).

TOR2: Providing technical collaboration in nursing education.

TOR3: Monitoring & reporting on national trends in nursing development in PHC/CHS.

TOR4: Coordinating & participating in research projects relevant to nursing development in PHC/CHS.

TOR5: Liaising with nursing education institutions & other WHO CCs for the strengthening of nursing development in PHC/CHS.

→ Support for assessment and implementation of PHC policies

→ Training in Human Resources for Health & capacity building

Countries that we have supported

- Mongolia & Bangladesh Training of nurses
- Consultation for establishing first nursing graduate program in Bangladesh
- Japan & Thailand Exchange programs for faculty & students
- Other Western Pacific Region countries Collaboration with & support for nurses & health administrators in the Asia Pacific Emergency & Disaster Nursing Network (APEDNN).
- Africa Region: Training of nurses, nursing faculty, public health officials from Ethiopia, Rwanda & Tanzania

Leadership activities

- First WHO CC related to Nursing
- Secretariat of the Global Network (1994-1998)
- 28 WHO Nursing CCs
- APEDNN Core Working Group Member; Host of the 2011 APEDNN Meeting